Top 3 Benefits of WebSentry:

Factory Service Support

Factory service support technicians can remotely observe your dehumidifierâ??s performance and adjust setpoints and parameters with control of over 100 critical functions.

24-7 Access to Remote Monitoring and System Control

WebSentry provides access to historical and real-time online data and system control so that authorized service technicians can remotely view and change performance parameters via their smartphone or any device connected to the internet.

Performance Notifications

You choose the key personnel who will receive instant email notifications should any system parameters not conform to performance expectations.

Complimentary Activation of Wireless Remote Connectivity

Ensuring the service and reliability of your sophisticated dehumidification equipment begins with expert installation, system start-up and commissioning. Your Seresco dehumidifier comes automatically connected to WebSentry via a cellular connection and remains connected at no charge for the first two years. (If there is no cellular connection at the unit location, a Cat5 cable can be used as an alternative to connect the unit to the internet.) We also provide you with a one-year extended parts labor warranty.
